Last Modified Date: October 21, 2020. A baker's dozen or long dozen is a collection of thirteen items, usually baked goods such as bread, rolls, and pastries. The term "baker's dozen" has its roots in the 13th century, and a number of theories have been put forward to explain its origins. The most likely explanation for the baker's dozen is related to the severe punishments which existed in England for bakers who shorted their customers; out of fear of accidentally violating the law ...
